

SAFETY, HEALTH AND ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

SEH America contributes to the advancement of electronic and energy industry by producing high quality silicon wafers and monocrystalline silicon ingot from a natural resource in our earth.

Our basic philosophy is to be an enterprise that respects the natural resources of the earth and its people. Safety and Environmental Management is one of the highest priorities for top management at SEH America.

OBJECTIVES

Commitment to:

Compliance with Laws and Regulations

SEH America is committed to meet or exceed all governmental laws, regulations and other requirements which relate to safety, health and the environment, in all aspects of its operations.

Environmentally Oriented Manufacturing

From purchasing raw material through end of our product use, SEH America will implement sustainable practices that include pollution prevention, recycling, reusing and reducing waste, conserving natural resources and energy and meet or exceed requirements related to environmentally relevant substances.

Environmental Management System

SEH America will establish a Safety and Environmental Management document that outlines establishing, reviewing and improving objectives and targets for the Environmental Management System.

SEH America will conduct internal audits periodically and all audit reports will be reviewed by top management to assist in continual improvement of safety and environmental performance.

Safety, Health and Hygiene in the Work Place

SEH America will provide a safe operation and protect employees by installing safe and easy to handle equipment. The company is committed to providing employees with a healthy work environment by promoting overall health.

Employee Training

SEH America will publish safety and environmental activity news through regular communication sources to raise employee awareness of safety and environmental issues. SEH America will have an active safety and environmental training program that includes participation for persons working for or on behalf of the organization.

Communication with Local Community

SEH America is committed to maintaining good relationship with the community through operating production activities to minimize impacts on the environment. Safety and environmental policies at all levels will be available to the public on request.